

Non-resident District Boundary Exceptions

The board recognizes that personal and family educational circumstances may exist that may make it more appropriate for a non-resident student to attend a school in the Yakima School District rather than a school in their district of residence. A non-resident student is one who resides in another public school district. The board directs the superintendent to develop procedures to consider non-resident requests to attend district schools. The procedures must recognize that the board's first responsibility is to the residents of the Yakima School District. The subsequent admittance of non-resident students shall take into consideration the district's capacity to serve and any financial hardship to the district, while at the same time not diminishing educational opportunities or services to the district resident students.

The board directs the superintendent to prepare appropriate procedures to implement this policy.
